PROFILE

Hi, I started learning web development 6 months ago now I have a good understanding of how to develop a good website I know how to connect the front end with back end and how to fetch data from the database. I understand very well how much security is important for anyone. I can create a secure website with the best UX.

EXPERIENCE

Web Development

- I created a full-fledged fitness website I used React , Tailwind CSS for the font end and Express , Node for the back end, MongoDB atlas for the database user can find his calories and BMI and find food in the food section also user can create notes to monitor his fitness but first user has to login then the user can see his notes I used (bcrypt) encryption to save the password and (JWT) authentication token for the security
- I created a static business website and deployed it on Heroku
